THE GALLERY

We learn about early cultures through evidence left behind:

1) Through Objects

Look carefully at first peoples points. How are they different? Use those differences to identify their origins using the poster.

Once you've made a match, make an outline in the box above. Label it with the name and date from the picture on the poster.

2) Through records.

There are six maps of North Carolina. Each map depicts political boundaries at different times in Chatham County's history. Can you put the maps in chronological order? (oldest to newest) Explain your answer.
